This compilation includes tracks by bands called Funkafreek, Funkhouse, United Soul Association and The Funkateers. If that doesn't tell you enough then you should know that featured here are 4 super rare and 9 unreleased tracks from the vaults of West Coast producer George Semper. Recorded between 1969 and 1977 in studios, garages, and even record stores it's a mix of soul and raw funk that's dancefloor friendly and is packed with breaks and many sample worthy tunes.

Bands featured include young incarnations of artists like Rodney Franklin, Charles Owens, Al Mckay (Earth Wind and Fire) and James Gadson (of the Watts 103rd Street Rhythm Band. and vocalist on "Express Yourself").

The music ranges from the gritty garage funk of In One Peace and Funkafreak to the disco-boogie sound of Mary Love and the Perfect Circle (probably the compilations most well-known act). Cover versions include The Isleys "It's Your Thing" and a tasty hammond-organ driven version of Sly Stones "Thank You (Falletinme Be Mice Elf Agin)".
