The second volume in our Luv N' Haight Edit Series feature re-works of two tracks from the classic self-titled album by Tommy Stewart. The heavyweight Chicago duo of Zernell aka Grimy Edits and Rahaan collaborate on this limited release.

Although it can be argued that Tommy Stewart's "Practice What You Preach" is about as perfect a dancefloor filler as you could get in its original form, Zernell and Rahaan take it a step further by stretching out the groove and layering the best elements to create a proper disco edit.

"Bump And Hustle Music" is the most-well known track off the album and is another classic that most folks don't want to touch. Zernell and Rahaan come correct and do justice to the tune by expanding its original 5 minute length to a solid 9 minute re-work. All the elements are taken up a notch with the result being a certified burner of an edit and gives new meaning to the "Bump And Hustle" title of the song.

Zernell and Rahaan, two of Chicago's finest DJ's and producers have both been at it since the '80s and are certified veterans in the disco and house music scene. With several releases under his belt including Rahaan Edits Vol.1 and 2 on Stilllove4music and remixes for KAT as well as music production for Australian singer Christine Eva and Atlanta based singer Ozara Ode', Rahaan still finds time to rock parties worldwide from Japan, Australia, the UK and various points in between. With his well-known and already established edit label Grimy Edits, Zernell maintains his status as a well-known mover and shaker in the dance scene. With countless mixes on websites such as Deep House Page and Bring The Heat and playing parties worldwide like his partner Rahaan, Zernell's definitely keeping busy moving things along.
